

Courtney Lowman

Speaker & Podcast Host

Courtney Lowman has a passion to see women of every generation fulfill Jesus's command to make disciples. She lives out her passion of disciple-making by speaking and training in women's ministries, discipling college students, and through her podcast The Journey of Ruth Discipleship Podcast. As a teacher, Courtney's energetic, honest, and practical presentation of the Word of God encourages women to connect with scripture in a consistent and personal manner; allowing the Bible to direct their daily lives. Courtney serves alongside her husband in their church's college ministry and loves hiking, reading, hunting, and meeting people for coffee.

"If you want a speaker with enthusiasm, engagement and a passion to help women grow in their faith and learn to inspire others, then Courtney Lowman is one of the best. Courtney knows how to reach all generations with her motivational style of teaching and will win your heart as she encourages you with practical tools that anyone can use for discipleship."

-Vicki Voyce, Leaders in Fellowship Together
Director

"Courtney Lowman is a gifted speaker who relates with women of every age. She is always well-prepared but not pretentious in her presentations."

-Maggi Garrison, Former Women's Director at Palmcroft Church

"Aside from her kind heart and love for people, Courtney is insanely gifted at speaking/teaching. She is passionate about her topic, relatable to her audience, very funny, and most importantly, she speaks from The Word and speaks truth."

-Meagan VanSchoonhoven,
The Bridge Church Women's Director
